NEWS FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

The Freshest Gleanings from the Old World.

England and the Berlin Conference.

BERLIN, May 19.—It is believed here that England has refused or will refuse to adhere to the memorandum of the three powers, Russia, Germany and Austria. It is understood that five powers will address a note to Turkey in regard to the settlement of its affairs.

COLOGNE, May 19.—Intelligence from London, published here, gives as reasons for England's refusal to adhere to the memorandum of the Berlin Conference that the proposals require from the Porte what is unreasonable, and that England wishes to remain unfettered in whatever course future events may take. It is added that England, however, will not advise the Sultan to reject the proposals.

Reception to the Prince of Wales.

LONDON, May 20.—The reception and entertainment of the Prince of Wales in the city last night realized all the expectations, and was a most magnificent and successful affair. The Prince, accompanied by the Princess and members of the Royal family, arrived at Guild Hall soon after seven o'clock, after a triumphant progress through the streets, crowded with spectators, who cheered enthusiastically as the carriages passed. A banquet was had, at the conclusion of which a grand ball began. At its height five thousand guests must have been present. The festivities were kept up to a late hour, the Prince retiring long before they were concluded.

French Amnesty.

VERSAILLES, May 19.—The Chamber of Deputies continued the debate on amnesty. Various motions for complete amnesty and for the amnesty of certain classes of Communists were rejected by overwhelming majorities.

England's Objections.

LONDON, May 20.—A correspondent of the Times at Paris says the explanation given there for the refusal of England to accede to the Berlin programme is that the British Government considers that if an armistice was stipulated for in the name of the insurgents, they would thereby be treated as belligerents. England raised a successful objections to the measures considered by the Conference.

Another Massacre of Christians

A special from Paris to the Daily Telegraph says a report has been received there that the Musselman inhabitants of Piedur, in Asia, under the pretext that a number of Christians were about to quit the town, attacked the Christian quarter and massacred one hundred persons, including women and children. Turkish troops afterwards occupied the place and made numerous arrests.

Indemnity for the Salonica Murders.

The Times' Paris dispatch says it is expected that the widows of the murdered consuls will each receive $200,000 indemnity.

MINOR NOTES.

SIXTY French Deputies abstained from voting on Thursday on Raspail's motion for general amnesty, including Gambetta.

N. & A. PACHEIRE, a large Greek cotton house in London, has suspended. The liabilities are unknown.

THE funeral of the murdered Consuls took place in Salonica yesterday with great ceremony. Perfect order was maintained.

THE Berlin Reichsanzeiger states that the investigation at Salonica has not yet afforded any reliable explanation of the real causes of the assassination of the Consuls. It is certain, however, that the consuls had no connection with the alleged forcible detention of a Christian girl.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, May 19, 1876.

SENATE.

The Impeachment of Belknap.

In the Senate, after the introduction and reference of several bills and the presentation of a number of petitions, legislative business was suspended and the consideration of the articles of impeachment against Belknap, late Secretary of War, was resumed with closed doors. At 4:45 the doors were reopened and legislative business resumed.

Gold and Silver.

The Chair laid before the Senate a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury, enclosing a report of the Director of the Mint in answer to a Senate resolution showing the annual product of gold and silver in the United States from 1845 to 1875 inclusive, and an estimate of the product of other countries. Ordered printed and lie on the table.

After a brief executive session the Senate adjourned till to-morrow.

HOUSE.

Final Adjournment.

The Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means offered a resolution for the final adjournment of this session of Congress at four o'clock on June 12th. Referred.

Naval Appropriation.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Clymer in the chair) on the Naval appropriation bill, and was addressed by Mr. WILLIS on the navy yard system in favor of abolishing all navy yards except those of Brooklyn, Norfolk and Mare Island. Without action the House adjourned until evening.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, May 19, 1876.

SECRETARY BRISTOW was detained at home to-day by sickness, and the Treasury Department was represented at the Cabinet meeting by Assistant Secretary Conant.

JOHN SHERMAN, JR., Senior member of the late banking firm of Sherman & Grant, will be nominated on Monday next as the United States Marshal for New Mexico.

THE committee investigating the affairs of the Freedmen's Bank in their report set forth the evil doings of those who in effect robbed the bank, and recommended that they be indicted and punished to the full extent of the law.

THE House Committee on Foreign Affairs have not yet finally acted on the report of the sub-committee affecting Mr. Schenck, but the members are agreed that while he was not himself guilty of intentional wrong, he was a party with others in a speculative enterprise which resulted in great loss to British subjects, and that his becoming a director in the Emma Mine Company was altogether improper and incompatible with his position as American Minister.

SENATOR BOOTH says he does not intend to pay any attention to his nomination for Vice President, not regarding it as a matter worth especial notice. He says there are only two points of accord between his financial views and those of the Convention, namely, that United States legal tender notes should be substituted for all National bank notes, and that the easiest way to bring them up to a gold standard and provide for their redemption is through the inter-convertible 3.65 bond system.

The Pacific Railways.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The House Judiciary Committee to-day adopted resolutions to amend the Knott and Lawrence bill regarding the Pacific Railroads, so that when reported for passage it shall contain substantially the following provisions: That the sinking fund to be paid by the Union Pacific Railroad Company be fixed at $750,000 per annum for the first ten years, and $1,000,000 per annum thereafter until the whole debt and interest be paid. The sums to be exclusive of the five per cent. of the net earnings and Government freight, both of which, as they accrue, shall be credited to the companies on account of their indebtedness to the United States. A sinking fund of a proportionate amount shall also be created in the same way by the Central Pacific Railroad Company, and all other Pacific Railroad Companies for which the Government has issued subsidy bonds and advanced interest.

The Civil Service Investigation.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—B. H. Campbell, United States Marshal for the Northern district of Illinois, testified before the Civil Service Committee to-day. His testimony was almost precisely similar to that of the matter contained in his letter to Miss Sweet. Blakely was honestly indebted to him in the sum of five thousand dollars, and notified him that Miss Sweet would pay the indebtness. She did pay $2,105, but he had not the slightest knowledge or intimation that it had anything to do with her appointment as Pension Agent. He only learned this during the past few weeks, and had paid the entire amount back to Miss Sweet.

The Louisiana Investigation.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The Committee on Federal Offices in Louisiana met again to-day, and G. W. Ferguson continued his testimony in regard to the importation of one hundred and forty thousand cigars. Witness admitted that most of his information was derived from other parties. Being asked if he knew anything about any fraudulent pay rolls, he declined to answer, as it might criminate himself, but subsequently admitted seeing fraudulent pay rolls in 1874, and that money was drawn on them. J. M. Wilson appeared as counsel for Collector Casey.

RELIGIOUS NEWS.

Methodist Episcopal General Conference.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—In the Methodist General Conference to-day a resolution to amend the Discipline so as to provide for the expulsion of members of a church who rent buildings for the sale of intoxicating drinks was laid over until to-morrow.

General Fisk, from the committee to which was referred the communication from the M. E. Church South, presented a resolution that in order to remove all obstacles to formal fraternity between the two churches, the Board of Bishops be directed to appoint a committee of three ministers and two laymen to meet a similar commission authorized by the M. E. Church South, and adjust all difficulties. Adopted.

J. M. Reid, of Michigan, was elected Corresponding Missionary Secretary, receiving 238 votes of the 369 cast. A motion to reconsider the action of the Conference transferring the publication and control of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate to the Book Concern at New York, led to a prolonged discussion, and was laid over to receive formally Bishop Cummins, of the Reformed Episcopal Church. The Bishop was warmly welcomed, and delivered an eloquent address, saying all he was he owed to Methodism. At the conclusion of the address there was prolonged applause, and a resolution was adopted that a fraternal messenger be sent to the Reformed Church.

The matter of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate was resumed. The Conference finally reversed its action transferring its publication and management to the New York Book Concern.

The report of the Book Committee relative to changing the name of the Ladies' Repository, and the general scope and character of that magazine, investing the agents of the Western Book Concern, the western section of the Book Committee, and the editor of the Repository with authority to make such change, was taken up and adopted.

The Conference elected Rev. Reuben Nelson and Rev. Lake Hitchcock as Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer respectively of Missionary Societies.

Adjourned.

The Presbyterian General Assembly.

NEW YORK, May 19.—When the Presbyterian General Assembly was called to order, the standing committees were announced by the Moderator. The official documents of different presbyteries were then handed in.

Rev. Dr. Prime offered a series of resolutions, declaring that the General Assembly was in hearty sympathy with the objects of the Centennial Exhibition, and recognizing the bountiful goodness of God to the people of the United States during the first century of their national independence; recording with satisfaction the fact that the Commissioners have decided to close the gates on the Lord's Day, as such respect for the Sabbath is becoming a people whose God is the Lord, and who hath said "Them that honoreth Me I will honor." The General Assembly therefore unanimously and heartily gives expression to its earnest desire that no influence may prevail to change the resolution so worthy of the American people.

These resolutions were adopted, and a committee appointed to go to Philadelphia and present them to the Commissioners.

Rev. Dr. Adams then read a report from the Committee on the Reformed Church. This committee was appointed at the last Assembly to confer with similar committees of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in regard to the union of the two Churches. He said they had come to no conclusion, although they were friendly disposed. The committee was therefore discharged.

A memorial from Rev. Chas. Knox, of Newark, was read and referred relative to the German population of America. It calls attention to this intelligent class, and points to the necessity of extending the mission work in that quarter.

The chairman of the committee on the United Presbyterian Church stated he had written to that Church and received no reply. The committee at his request was discharged.

At the afternoon session Rev. Dr. Breckenridge protested against the decision of the General Assembly of 1865, which allowed Catholics to enter the Presbyterian Church without being rebaptized. Dr. Breckenridge claimed that such reception of members was inconsistent, and that all Catholics who enter Presbyterian churches should be treated the same as though they had never received baptism to religion. After some debate the protest was referred to a committee.

Rev. Dr. Adams offered a resolution in substance that professors should not be appointed on Committees on Theological seminaries. It was inappropriate, as they had to consider matters pertaining to themselves. Dr. Adams was permitted to withdraw from his membership of the committee, and the committee was reorganized. Drs. Aiken and Hunt also retired from the committee, and to fill the places of the retiring members the following gentlemen were chosen: Rev. John F. Hendy, G. D. Stewart, J. H. Schofield and Robert Craig.

The subject of church members attending balls and dancing with promiscuous assemblages was discussed and the matter referred to the Committee on Church Polity. Complete reports were received in regard to home and foreign missions and referred to the Committee on Missions.

There was read a formal invitation from the Brooklyn Sunday School Union, extending an invitation for the Assembly to take part in the anniversary of the Sunday schools of Brooklyn on Wednesday next. The invitation was declined, as it would not be convenient for delegates to attend, owing to the pressure of business.

Cumberland Presbyterian General Assembly.

LOUISVILLE, May 19.—Eleven o'clock to-morrow has been fixed by the Cumberland General Assembly as the time for receiving salutations from the Evangelical Union Church of Scotland, through Rev. George Gladstone, Corresponding Delegate.

The Freedmens' Bank Swindle.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The House Committee on the Investigation of the Affairs of the Freedmen's Bank made a report to-day. They say the institution was a monstrous swindle from the first—"the incorporators only of the incorporators and speculating rings." The District of Columbia Government, when they found their treasury unequal to the strain upon it, "went into the bank," and drew large sums. The committee also enumerates as members of the "ring" D. L. Eaton, President of the bank, R. D. Cooke, Actuary, W. S. Huntington, Chairman of Finance Committee, General O. O. Howard, Honorary Trustee, and Lewis Clephane, of the Finance Committee. These five, it is claimed, held "a high carnival over the freedmen's hard-earned and sweat-stained earnings." The committee further say the committee were "robbed of their money by causing hypothetical who now go unpunished of justice." The committee cite the case of J. W. Vanderburg, who was a pet of the District Government as a sort of protege and favorite contractor for grand public improvements, planned and put into execution by the Board of Public Works. The report says that the securities on which Vanderburg borrowed money from the bank were not worth four cents on a dollar as saleable securities or as evidence of debt. D. E. Eaton was persuaded to accept as a gratuity from Vanderburg a half interest in a million dollar contract for sewer pipes. Eaton put in no money of his own, incurred no risks or responsibility, and had no trouble about it, except to sign receipts for his share of the profits, but he used the influence of his position to pass Vanderburg's paper at the bank. The committee, however, say the Vanderburg-Eaton irregularity is small in actual criminality compared with the Seneca sandstone swindle. This bubble was a fancy stock gamble got up by H. D. Cooke, John L. Kidwell and M. A. Hodge, by which $62,000 of the freedmen's money was drawn out on worthless securities. The committee think that Henry D. Cooke, Lewis Clephane, Hallett Kilbourne and J. O. Evans should be indicted, tried and punished to the extent of the law, while those who are personally responsible should be sued for the recovery of the money.

The report was signed by Douglass (chairman), Bradford, Stenger, Riddle, Hooker and Rainy. Mr. Fost agreed on all the main points, but dissented from some of the arguments.

A Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The Cabinet was in session to-day for more than two hours. The note received from Earl Derby upon the Winslow extradition case was the subject of attention. The document was read to the members of the Cabinet by Secretary Fish, and at the conclusion of the reading a general consultation ensued upon the subject matter of the communication. Secretary Fish will soon reply to Earl Derby, and while it is not learned what the exact nature of the response from the Government will be, it can nevertheless be said that the position already held will be adhered to. The tenor of the conversation to-day was of a character to indicate very clearly that the duty of this Government lies in the abrogation of our existing treaty with Great Britain, though this depends upon the British note in reply to the next dispatch from the Secretary of State to Earl Derby.

The condition of affairs in Louisiana was also the subject of attention, though no action was taken. A telegram was read from General Augur to General Sheridan stating the receipt of instructions from General Sherman, and further saying: "Troops are already instructed to prevent open violence, and as far as possible to afford protection to all requiring it."

Another Stage Robbery.

GALVESTON, May 19.—Two hacks filled with passengers, on the El Paso Line, were stopped by three highwaymen on the open prairie, eighteen miles west of Dallas, yesterday. The passengers were relieved of their valuables, and while the robbers were at work another stage drove up, but the driver whipped up his horses and escaped, although the stage was chased, and several shots exchanged between the robbers and passengers. As soon as the robbers secured the booty, which amounted to $7,000, they shot their own horses and mounted the best ones belonging to the stages and rode off towards the Indian Nation.

Information received later from Galveston states that a mounted guard of three men, which started in pursuit of the highwaymen, had got quite close to them on the Guarantee prairie. They are supposed to be the noted James brothers. The entire country is aroused.

A Mob at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, May 19.—A dispatch from Lagrange, Ky., to the Chief of Police says: Men are organizing to come to Louisville and hang Ben. Mickey, a prisoner charged with murder. Mickey is a bad character, and has assassinated four men, the last at Lagrange, a week ago.

MIDNIGHT.—The entire police force has been ordered on duty to prevent the Lagrange mob from hanging Ben. Mickey. Other dispatches say one hundred and ninety men have left Lagrange for Louisville jail. The police and military are on duty and ready to arrest the men as soon as they come. The police number one hundred and eighty, and the military one hundred.

Fatal Accident Near Bulger, Pa.

BULGER, Pa., May 19.—A fatal accident occurred this morning about three miles from this place, where Jesse Vanorder endeavored to attempt to clean out an old well. They were overcome by the foul air, and, with a neighbor who attempted rescue them, were almost dead before taken out. Mr. Thomas, another neighbor, succeeded in getting them out, but it was too late for one of the Vanorders who died soon after. The others will probably recover.

Gone to Meet Winslow.

BOSTON, May 19.—Hon. Newton Morse, of Natick, successor of the forger Winslow, from the Fourth Massachusetts Senatorial District, has fled, having appropriated $3,000 of the funds of the town of Natick. He is said to have squandered large sums at faro.

Prospective Heavy Haul.

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—District Attorney Dyer is rapidly pushing the cases against the bondsmen of bonded whisky, and says he expects to secure a million dollars for the Government.

Latest from the Black Hills.

CHEYENNE, May 19.—The two last companies of the Second Cavalry of Crook's expedition left for Ft. Russell this morning. They expect to be joined by other troops along the way, and to reach Fort Fetterman by next Wednesday. The latest arrivals from the Black Hills to-day were Nealson and J. D. May, of this city, who report meeting Raymond's out-fit on Indian Creek, engaged in a hot fight with Indians. The Indians succeeded in capturing only five head of stock, when they were driven off. They met about four hundred men, with eighty wagons, northward bound, at Hot Creek, where Captain Egan's command had also halted. Leaving Hot Creek, they rode into Fort Laramie unmolested. They state on Whitewood and Deadwood Creeks, the claims are being successfully worked, yielding ten to twenty dollars to the man, but beyond this district the hostility and oft-repeated attacks of Indians on prospectors has almost paralized the efforts of the miners. Gov. Thayer departed east to-day to secure, if possible, additional troops to protect the frontier during the absence of the garrison forces in the Big Horn country.

Wm. Ward vs. Miller & Houston. Action for rent. Verdict for defendant.

Samuel Wheeler vs. J. H. O'Brien. Action to recover damages for false arrest. On trial.

Court Brevities.

ROBERT M. STEVENSON commenced suit in the Common Pleas No. 1, yesterday, against Henry Crosshor, to recover $50,000 damages for injuries done to him by an assault made upon him by defendant.

EDWARD KELLY, yesterday, in Common Pleas No. 1, commenced a suit in ejectment against Thomas Callestenson, with notice to Robert Hutchenson, terre tenant, to recover a lot on Fifth avenue, in the Eleventh ward.

THE injunction applied for Thursday by John W. Clark against Gabriel Fry, to prevent defendant from annoying him by continuing actions before different Aldermen, to dispossess him (defendant) of the Central Hotel, Twenty-first ward, was yesterday refused by Judge Collier on the ground that as a landlord has no appeal, he can enter suit before different Aldermen until he gets a judgment.

In the case of John Gritin and wife, in right of the latter, against Alderman Butler, for marrying Mrs. Gritin's son without her consent, commenced in the Common Pleas Court No. 1, a few days ago, Squire Butler yesterday filed his answer. It sets forth that he did not marry the man as stated, that he very believes that it was with the knowledge and consent of Mrs. Gritin, the boy, James Raier, being with her at his office, and that he also went down to his (Butler's) office to make it all right with the girl, he being charged before the Squire by Annie McCracken with seduction under promise of marriage.

A. M. POLLOCK commenced suit in the Common Pleas No. 1, yesterday, against the Safe Deposit Company of this city. The plaintiff sets forth that on September 19, 1865, he rented No. 6 safe in the company's vault and deposited therein two United States bonds for $1,000 each and two for $500 each. The bonds remained in the vault without molestation, except when plaintiff took them out to cut off the coupons as the interest fell due, until the 27th of January, 1875. On that date plaintiff went to the safe, took out the box in which the bonds were placed, and, upon opening it, discovered they were not there. He informed the officers of the company of his loss, and demanded that they make it good. As they had repeatedly refused so to do, he now brings suit to recover damages in the sum of $8,641.25, being the value of the bonds, with interest and premium added.

THE CITY FINANCES.

Skirmishing for Water Works Money —A New Proposition from the Nation Trust Company Stockholders—The Attorneys Offer to Turn all the Mortgaged Property Over to the City.

The Finance Committee held a special session yesterday afternoon to consider the ordinance providing for a loan of $300,000 with which to finish the water works. The City Attorney, who was present, said that under the law Councils are the custodians of all the municipal finances and assets, and have the right and authority to make temporary loans on such assets as are not pledged for the payment of indebtedness already incurred. He had no doubt that the proposed ordinance was legal, but he suggested that a sub-committee be appointed in conjunction with the City Controller and Treasurer to report what particular action should be taken by the banks for the loan. Mr. Shipton suggested that the securities of the Nation Trust Company might be used as a basis, they being uncumbered. The suggestion of Solicitor Bigelow was adopted, and Messrs. Rahauser, Person, Liggett, Aiken and Hughes were appointed to make the examination.

The forty per cent. proposition of the attorneys of the stockholders of the Nation Trust Company was next taken up, and Mr. Aiken moved that, inasmuch as any motion to accept it would be unanimously voted down, a sub-committee be appointed to confer with the attorneys to ascertain what arrangements could be made for the mutual protection of the stockholders and the city, and to report at once. He asserted that some such course was absolutely necessary. Mr. Shipton said he thought the committee might hear any proposition the attorneys might make, but he did not think the committee had any power to enter into negotiations. The motion, after some further discussion, was adopted, and Messrs. Aiken, Neeb and Liggett were appointed. They immediately retired to the office of the City Solicitor, where they met Mr. Sol. Schoyer. After about half an hour's consultation with him the committee returned and submitted the following as Mr. Schoyer's proposition:

To the Sub-Committee of the Finance Committee:

While we do not withdraw the proposition of buying the claims of creditors at forty per centum leaving that for your further consideration, I would submit the following:

All the debtors who have put up securities for the Nation Trust Company bonds may have the option of conveying in fee simple the properties mortgaged to a Trustee, to be named upon the trusts.

1st. That said Trustee shall, with the concurrence of an Advisory Committee to be named, from time to time sell the same as private or public sale for cash, or part cash or part time, as the Advisory Committee may direct.

2d. That the proceeds of such sale shall be distributed upon receipt of sufficient to pay at least five per cent., pro rata, among all creditors.

3d. That until sales are made by the Trustees present owners are to remain in occupancy as tenants of the Trustees without rent, but to pay the taxes.

4th. The Trustee to give to each creditor a certificate that he is entitled to share in the proceeds of the sale in the proportion his debt (named) bears to the whole debt, (named).

5th. Each debtor to be released from further individual liability upon making the conveyance.

I make this proposition to show the fullest degree of fairness upon the part of our clients.

The properties are worth more than the whole debt, and by this plan I have but little doubt a large proportion of the debt can be secured to the creditors, because the Trustee can sell at discretion, and thereby avoid the calamity of a forced sale.

We have offered forty per cent. because that is all we can borrow upon these properties, their conceded value being one million dollars.

With great respect,

S. SCHOYER.

May 19, 1876.

For self and foes, Shirts.

The discussion that followed the reading of the proposition developed the fact that there was anything but a unanimity of feeling as to what action should be taken upon it. Mr. McClarren thought that if the property should be accepted and sold it would bring at least sixty per cent., and that he considered better than to wait three or four years and get only twenty or twenty-five per cent. Mr. Thomson was also of the opinion that the property should be accepted in accordance with the proposition. Mr. Schoyer's document was finally referred for examination to the committee appointed to investigate as to the unencumbered assets of the city, and the committee then adjourned.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 112⅜.

THE pertinacity with which the name of FRANKLIN RIVES is drawn in, at every discussion of the Congressional printing question, fairly leads to the suspicion that the desire to give that gentleman a good job is at the bottom of the investigations had on that subject.

IT is rather bad to have a "biger man than old GRANT" summarily retire from office, but it is reported that FITZHUGH has compromised with the Committee on Rules, by agreeing to resign, if his criminal record is not looked into. This has been accepted, and all will soon be peaceful once more.

THE PRINCE OF WALES was yesterday accorded a public reception in London, in honor of his return from his trip to India. Of course this is a necessity,—the demands of custom requiring it. Beyond this, the affair is not of any particular consequence, as the nature and purposes of the India trip are well understood. He brings back no information of public value, as the affair was a mere junketing tour.

THE endorsement given by the Kentucky Republican Convention to the claims of Secretary BRISTOW for the Presidential nomination, comes gratefully from his home State. While we do not imagine that he can be nominated, it is but grateful and proper that his fellow Republicans of Kentucky should stand by him. They have done it in a resolution that states in a dignified and proper manner, his deeds and qualities,—all of which are commendable

SEVERAL of our contemporaries make the mistake of supposing that an effort was made to remove the publication of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate. The idea was to publish here, but to do it under the authority of the New York Concern. It is now published under the direction of a local publishing committee. The New York house now publishes papers at distant points from that city, and the idea was simply one of administration, and not of location.

THE report now comes from Washington that the Senate will assume jurisdiction in the BELKNAP case, and that the trial will now proceed. It will establish a precedent, one, we think, that is in every way unfortunate. We do not speak with reference to BELKNAP, as we would prefer to see him tried; but it is a bad rule. If a person who has been allowed to resign can be tried, there is no limit to the trial of persons who have been found guilty of crime. Thus the door is opened wide for all kinds of investigations, for which there is no need of encouragement. So far as BELKNAP is concerned, it is probably better he should be tried, although a grand jury will do it as well as the Senate can.

THE value of investigations is clearly shown by the summing up of that in the SCHENCK case. It is evident that the status of SCHENCK is about what it was before the investigation took place, that is, it is evident that he acted indiscreetly and imprudently, but not that he acted criminally. But the committee, with true Democratic audacity, propose to censure him and President GRANT and Secretary FISH as well. In brief, they aim to make political capital out of the affair, and are willing to strain the facts to this end. The minority, however, propose to meet this with another report, in case a fair statement is not made. It is strange the Democracy do not see that simple fairness is better, even for themselves, than these grossly partisan efforts.

THE Nation Trust Company stockholders, while not withdrawing their original proposition to pay in cash the present value of their obligations to the city, have submitted another proposition, which is fully stated in our local columns. It is a concession that amounts to a practical giving up to the creditors the property, or mortgages, with the understanding that they shall be used to the best advantage, but that the entire property shall not be driven to a forced sale. Without having had personal intercourse with the stockholders, we are impressed that they are acting like honest men, who seek to get rid of a burthensome debt in the best possible manner, and in an honest way. The spirit they show should be reciprocated. It is that of rightly disposing of a difficult question, and they should be met in the spirit they manifest. Certainly oppression cannot be considered best under the circumstances.

THERE are various ways of stating points. The outcome of the Ohio Democratic Convention is given in the following form by an Eastern journal: "Ohio has disposed of three Democratic Presidential aspirants in one day, and it wasn't more than an average good day for such game, either." Uncle ALLEN and Nephew THURMAN pummeled each other until there isn't enough life left in both of them to enable one man to face the racket at St. Louis, and the real lesson of Ohio is that TILDEN can't be the nominee of the party unless an open rebellion is to be accepted. The earnest battle made for ALLEN was but to vindicate him against the TILDEN stabs in the State contest of last year, and it was successful. Of course ALLEN won't be seriously thought of at St. Louis, and THURMAN is now outside the ropes with PENDLETON, but the Buckeye Democracy have taken liberal vengeance on their brethren of the Empire State, and will have first-class funerals for several at the same time that Uncle WILLIAM shall be entombed and left only to memory dear. TILDEN, ALLEN, THURMAN—gone to meet the ghostly Unknown."

A STARTLING witness, that man FERGUSON. He is in Washington to reveal the innermost secrets and immoralities of the New Orleans Custom House. He was thought according to his testimony, to be a dangerous man. They actually attempted to intimidate him, and threatened to have a hundred men to swear against him. So anxious was he to unburthen himself that he took his life in his hand as he came, as had it been known that he was coming to Washington to testify, he would never have left Louisiana alive. He even did the violence to his untarnished and active conscience, of deceiving Marshal PACKARD as to the reason of his absence—yet so soon as he reaches Washington, they know he was there. Having noticed all these intimations as to the importance of his testimony, we look for the startling revelations that are to follow, and learn that there was one irregular entry of cigars, and another attempt to thus enter them, which was frustrated by the Custom House authorities! What surprises us is, that they should be so bloodthirsty at New Orleans as to wish to kill fools.

THE M. E. General Conference, at Baltimore, is considering in committee the subject of evangelism, as a distinct feature of Christian work. It is a subject beset with many difficulties, and there are wide differences of opinion among earnest Christian people as to the wisdom or advantage of this form of labor. The unquestioned success of MOODY and SANKEY has given the work a status it might not otherwise have had; but, as a rule, the inclination is to regard the work as not largely advantageous to the churches, while there are thought to be some disadvantages attending it. Yet the tendency of experience and belief is in favor of accepting the work of evangelists as supplementary to the regular church agencies. The oldest Christian ecclesiastical institution—the Roman Catholic Church—has derived many of its greatest successes from itinerant evangelical enterprises. Religious orders have scattered their zealous laborers into fields occupied, but not cultivated by the Church, and have gathered rich harvests. The largest Protestant Church organization in this country owes its existence to the labors of English evangelists, and it is the opinion of great numbers of divines that the outlying fields of ignorance and sin which surround the churches in all our cities can best be entered and claimed by evangelists specially trained to such work. The success of MOODY and SANKEY in Ireland and Great Britain is a case in point. It is generally conceded that a very large number of their conversions were made from a class who could not be reached by the regular and ordinary means. Yet the question arises, whether every church should not have an evangelizing organization within it,—or at least every city and town. The danger, on the one hand of general evangelism, is that unworthy persons may be attracted to it, by the prominence, and eclat attending it; while, on the other hand efficient evangelists are of great value. It is a very important question, with difficulties surrounding every possible plan, but the outlook is favorable to the evangelistic plan, and, we judge it will be adopted by the great Protestant bodies of the country.

A STEP TOWARD THE END.

To those who have followed the course of recent Turkish events, and who have studied Turkish character, as revealed in history, the present condition of affairs in Constantinople is not especially surprising. In prosperity, the Turk is a fatalist; in adversity, a panic-stricken, brutal creature, ready to trample upon all restraints, and only faithful to the most bigoted forms of his religious faith. The onslaught of the Softas on the Sultan is not an exceptional event in Turkish history, the representatives of the religious element having risen against their ruler more than once. Sultans have indeed been deposed, and it yet remains to be seen whether this will not be done in the case of the present Sultan. In estimating the situation, we should remember that the present Sultan does not possess the confidence of the ultra religionists, owing to his having changed the law of succession to the throne, thus violating one of their oldest rules. There is also a suspicion that the Sultan has placed himself under Russian control, and the newly appointed Grand Vizier was believed to be the representative of that influence, and hence his resignation was demanded and handled. The fact that the Sultan was compelled to yield to the demands of a mob, and to reorganize his government under its dictation is fatal to him. In all such instances the result heretofore has been the overthrow of the yielding party, or his absolute and slavish subjection to the controlling influence.

The history of the Janizaries illustrates this. During the aggressive period of Turkish history, the Janizaries became famous for their prowess, and were soon recognized as the favorite troops of the Sultan. Under SULEIMAN the Magnificent, they were pampered and spoiled. SELIM and MURAD III., his successor, were bullied by the Janizaries, even with reference to trifling details of practice and government, till eventually they dethroned any Sultan who failed to obey their behests. MUSTAPHA, the immediate predecessor of the boy Sultan, OSMAN II., was thus driven from the throne, while OSMAN, after four years' reign, was murdered with the bow-string, by these same Janizaries, and MUSTAPHA restored to the throne. Thus two centuries passed, during which Sultans reigned or fell, as they pleased or displeased this powerful organization. MAHMOUD eventually succeeded to the throne, fully imbued with hatred for the Janizaries, but yet so completely in their power, that he was compelled to enroll himself a member of the organization. For eighteen years he watched, waited and plotted, organizing in the meantime an artillery corps, separate from the Janizaries, which eventually became strong enough to compete with them. In 1826 he had at Constantinople 14,000 well drilled men, who were also drilled as infantry. He was then ready to break the power of the Janizaries, the first step being an order to adopt the modern dress and drill. They rebelled. He gathered his faithful artillerymen, brought out the flag of the Prophet, required the Ulemas to declare the Janizaries enemies of the true faith, and moved upon them. The battle was terrible, the Janizaries being driven into their barracks and the square in front, where the cannon played upon them till they were dead. Thus the Government was rescued.

The present situation differs from that we have mentioned in some particulars, and resembles it in others. The Sultan has against him the rabble, led by the religious leaders, now as then. He has yielded to their demands, as did the unfortunates we have mentioned. Demoralization and discord, attended by scenes of brutality, exist now as then. But there are new elements which do not promise favorably to the continuance of the Empire. It is financially bankrupt, and practically supported by Christian powers, which have only to will it, and the Turkish Empire passes away. Hitherto, their jealousies have prevented a harmonious line of action, but now they are apparently acting in accord, and in the interests of peace. Yet with anarchy developed in the Empire, they naturally will be compelled to take action, and probably to place the Empire under such control as will maintain their interests. Of these, the surface facts indicate that England will wish to be assured of the security of her financial claims. Russia seeks to protect the Christian element in the Empire; Austria to maintain intact her provinces; and Germany to secure the political equilibrium now existing. France is not particularly considered. It will, no doubt, be nearly impossible for the great powers to agree on a line of division, by which the Empire can be absorbed, and this may preserve it from absolute spoliation. Yet the Turkish Empire shows signs of disintegration, that are more significant than those of any previous period.

Since the days of the Janizaries, the internal condition of the European portion of the Empire has almost entirely changed. The Christian population is estimated as fully double that of the Mohammedans, while modern innovations have been made. The finances of the country are greatly involved, and the debts are due to subjects of Christian powers. The Empire is weak, whereas in the early days of the Janizaries, it was strong. Hence, it exists at the mercy of the Christian nations, where before it was self-maintaining. These facts, joined with the significant outbreaks of Mohammedan fanaticism, make it a grave question whether diplomacy will be able to save a ruined and tottering Empire.

TRUANT MADGE.

BY KATE PUTNAM OSGOOD.

The shadows [illegible] field and hill;
The cows came home an hour ago;
The bees are hived, and the nests are still;—
Where can the child be lingering?

Oh, where can the little laggard stay?
So swift of foot as she ever has been
It is not so far, by the meadow way,
To the lane where the blackberry vines begin.

Her mother stands in the door-way there,
Shading her eyes from the setting sun,
And up and down, with an anxious air,
Looks for a trace of the truant one.

Has she wandered on where the swamp-flowers blow
In the darkling wood and lost her way?
Has she slipped in the treacherous bog below
That hides under mosses green and gay?

Nay, timorous mother, spare your fears!
Your little maiden is safe the while.
No marsh-bird screams in her startled ears;
No forest mazes her feet beguile.

She is only standing amid the rye,
There at the end of the clover-plain,
And pulling a daisy-star, to try
Whether her love loves back again:

And Will bends over the bars beside,—
Two heads are better than one, forsooth!—
Leaning and looking, eager-eyed,
To see if the daisy tells the truth!

We publish to-day a list of Real Estate that will be offered for sale by Sheriff R. H. Fife, on Monday, June the 5th. This is one of the unpleasant duties a Sheriff has to perform, and we know of no one more capable and better fitted in times like these to fill the office, than Mr. Fife. Kind-hearted, courteous, industrious and honest, together with his large experience, make him a worthy officer.

Base Ball Notes.

The Alleghenys won the second victory of their brief tour yesterday afternoon. At Mansfield, Ohio, they beat the Athletics, of that place, by a score of 9 to 8. At the end of the fifth inning the score stood 7 to 2 in favor of the Alleghenys, but toward the close of the game their opponents pulled up considerably. To-day they play the Buckeyes, of Columbus, and their chances are accounted in a contest with that fine club are conceded to be somewhat doubtful. If they win they will be received upon their return home to-night with a band and flying colors.

At New Castle yesterday the Actives, of Reading, were defeated by the Neshannocks by a score of 5 to 4. The game was very exciting, and showed that the clubs were evenly matched. This is the score by innings:

Innings.....	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Neshannocks..	0	0	1	0	1	0	3	0	0—5
Actives.....	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0—4

At St. Louis yesterday the Browns scored 6 and the Chicagos 1, and at Hartford the Hartfords 12, and the Bostons 2.

The Fourteenth Regiment Benefit.

If lovers of music desire to contribute to a worthy purpose, and at the same time gratify their musical propensities, they should attend the complimentary concert to be given at Library Hall on next Tuesday evening by the Great Western Band and Orchestra for the benefit of the Fourteenth Regiment. The fact that it is to be the beneficiary of Monday night's performance should crowd the auditorium. As the Great Western Band and Orchestra it is almost needless to speak. The former particularly is known far and wide and its name is a synonym for all that is musical. The price of admission is one dollar. Reserved seats can be bought to-day without extra charge from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. at the Library Hall box office.
